THE GREAT COUNTRY PAPER OF THE WEST.

Is Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The corner stone of the new Masonic temple will be laid in November.

Thomas E. Vining has sought relief from debts by going through bankruptcy. He names his liabilities at $2,191.88 and his assets at $2,069.85.

The "News" acknowledges with thanks from its Brigham City agent, J. H. Horsley, the receipt of a box of blue pencils, the sort that makes "teach day" in Brigham City famous.

Tomorrow evening dedicatory services will be held in the Third ward meetinghouse, of this city. President Anthony H. Lund is expected to be present on the occasion. Time of meeting 8:30.

J. J. Myrick, who was operated by Officer Emil Johnson on Thursday, was examined as to his sanity yesterday afternoon before Judge Armstrong and was discharged. It was found that the man is a cocaine fiend and the use of that drug was responsible for his apparently demented condition. When first taken into custody he stated that he was from Indiana, and that he heard that the "Mormons" had Jesus Christ out here and he came out to see him.

The work of moving the state law library into the supreme court room and changing the location of the room occupied by the library has been commenced and will be completed before the October term of court. Justice Straup will move into the room occupied heretofore by Clerk Griffiths and Justice McCarty will occupy Justice Straup's present office. The room vacated by Justice McCarty will be used as the office of Clerk Griffiths. Chief Justice Barclay will remain in his present office. Two new steel book racks will be placed in the library which will also be provided with new carpets and matting. The change will relieve the present crowded condition of the law library.

With the ending of the first week of school last night, Principal Eaton of the Salt Lake High school found that he has 390 more students than ever before. The combining of the East Side school with the West Side accounts for a portion of the sudden increase, but the fact that 400 of the boys and girls are in the freshman class suggests that not all are East Siders. The increase has not overpowered the accommodations of the school, however, as the fact that 145 students register, an increase of 12 over the number for the same day last year. Most of the old students will not register until next week.

The regular Sunday school union meeting of the Salt Lake stake will be held in the sixteenth ward meetinghouse, Monday, Sept. 18, commencing at 8 o'clock. Interesting exercises will be given in the various departments. In the superintendents' department, a paper will be presented by Supt. Geo. McCallister on the "Division of Responsibility in the Superintendents' Department." A practical illustration of class work under Carlissa Beasley will be given in the Theological department. The teachers of the Second Intermediate will submit questions to be discussed in the meeting, relative to the things which concern them most in their department. Elder D. O. McKay of Weber stake will give a lecture on "Aim and How to Develop It," to the Kindergarten, Primary and First Intermediate teachers.

MR. RICHARD SOLOMON.
The subject of this sketch, is one of Zion's sturdy sons, who has just grown up with the country for all his business life. He has been connected with the shoe business as useful boy, salesman and then retail manager of Solomon Bros., with the exception of three years when in New Zealand on a mission, sent on his return again assumed the management.

The Solomon Bros. wholesale business is steadily growing, and they are to sell the retail and devote their entire time and energy to the wholesale shoe business. Mr. Richard Solomon then accepted the offer of the Hirschman Shoe Co., a live firm, over on the lookout for good men, and is now connected with them.

In his spare quarters and suggest to friends and old trade to look him up. The Hirschman Shoe Co. are located on the first floor below the clock corner, 106 South Main, and in addition to a full line of eastern-made shoes are special agents for Solomon Bros. Made Made Shoes.

AFFAIRS OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Clerk's Report Shows That Over $95,000 Was Expended in Buildings Last Year.

YET MORE ROOM IS NEEDED.

Attendance of Pupils Indicates That Many Were "Missed" at Time of Census Enumeration.

Clerk L. P. Judd, of the city board of education, has completed his annual report for the year ending June 30, 1905, and the same is now in the hands of the printer for publication. The report contains a detailed statement of the financial affairs of the board and shows the disbursements made on each school building in detail. One of the most important items in the report is the amount distributed in building during the past year. That amount reached the sum of $95,091.98. Of that amount the sum of $67,249.13 was expended on the new Lafayette school and $27,470.85 was paid to the state on the purchase price of the High school property.

A WEAKNESS HERE.
It will be seen by these figures presented that there was nothing in the building fund at the close of the year and the board has nothing to depend upon for that purpose this year except the regular portion of the tax receipts set apart for that fund. Owing to the fact that there are nearly a thousand more pupils in the city schools this year than last and it has become necessary to close one of the large school houses this year on account of its proximity to a new railroad, it is evident that the board will have to do some building. The pupils have been temporarily provided for but a permanent provision will have to be made for them by constructing a new schoolhouse.

MANY OUT OF CITY.
One of the strongest reasons urged for changing the time for taking the school census from the middle of summer to an earlier date is the fact that according to the census taken this year there was only an increase of 31 children of school age in the city, while on the closing day of school there were 390 more pupils enrolled than on the opening day last year. It is evident from that that a large number of children were out of the city when the census was taken. Hence the city board of education is deprived of the per capita tax for more than 300 pupils which is received from the state school fund. Another attempt will undoubtedly be made to have the time of taking the city school census changed to a date when the children are in the city.

CATARRH A UNIVERSAL DISEASE

Catarrh usually begins with a cold in the head, but does not stop there. The mucous membranes all become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to all parts of the body. The patient is then continually hacking and spitting, the nose is stopped up, the ears have a ringing or buzzing noise, the throat becomes sore, and as the unhealthy matter more thoroughly saturates the blood a general feeling of despondency takes possession of the system.

I had Catarrh for about fifteen years, and no man could have been worse. I tried everything I could hear of, but no good resulted. I then began S. S. S., and could see a little improvement from the first bottle, and after taking it a short time was cured. This was six years ago, and I am as well today as any man. I think Catarrh is a blood disease, and know there is nothing on earth better for the blood than S. S. S. Nobody thinks more of S. S. S. than I do. Local appliers cannot cure Catarrh, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. They allay the inflammation and temporarily relieve the disease, but as soon as they are left off the trouble returns. The only way to cure Catarrh is to treat it through the blood. S. S. S. soon clears the blood of all Catarrhal matter and purges it of all irritating poisons, checks further progress of the trouble and completely cures the disease. S. S. S. keeps the blood in perfect order so that it can eliminate from the system all waste matter that will produce Catarrh.

Nothing equals this great vegetable remedy in the cure of this disease. Write for our book and any medical advice you wish. We make no charge for either.

SAMOA'S LATEST LAVA SPOUTER.

"News" Correspondent Describes It at Sea While En Route To His Home.

NATIVES ARE MUCH ALARMED.

Eruption is in a New Place About Twenty Miles From Old Outbreak—Writer Has a Close Call.

Special Correspondence.
At Sea, Sept. 4.—As the "News" is a friendly visitor to Samoa, where I have been laboring as a missionary, I shall endeavor to contribute to it, by describing in part, the active volcano which is the feature of the day, on German Samoa.

On Friday, Aug. 21, after a hard climb of 19 miles, Elder Charles Lallana and the writer visited the volcano and viewed the flowing lava, which is cutting its path through the dense forest, on its way to the ocean. Notwithstanding the fact that the flow is not rapid, it has at the present writing covered several square miles, threatening great damage, if not entire loss to valuable plantations. The German trading station at Matalu, as well as surrounding villages, is in great danger thus causing much agitation to natives as well as to the natives. A few homes in Lafua have been sprinkled with ashes and the natives are saying "oi talola lava." They are also fasting and praying that God will spare their homes and their dear old island Lavalu.

Belief is current that if the present flow continues until the middle of September that the lava will reach the ocean, thus making an iron bound coast on the Matalu side.

IN A NEW SECTION.
The present eruption is in a new place about 20 miles from the old, well known volcano on Lavalu, which has also broken out afresh, scaring the natives from their homes at Apia.

The earthquake which followed the breaking out of the new volcano, was tremendous, and the shock was distinctly felt 30 miles away. The report resembled thousand ton guns bombarding a city, and was heard at Apia, on the adjacent island of Upolu.

HAID TO APPROACH.
The day on which the writer viewed the smoking mountain being very warm, it required some effort to approach the lava flow, but to reach the mouth of the crater was impossible, owing to the stifling smoke and melted rock. The nearest possible point to be reached was within three-fourths of a mile of the crater, but its work could be plainly seen by climbing trees, or cooled rocks, but to remain long in one place at a time was not safe, as the ground seemed to be giving way and huge boulders were being hurled down the mountain.

TWO HUNDRED FEET HIGH.
The mouth of the crater is built up to a height of possibly 200 feet. Our best view was from the foot, the sloping mass of earth, rocks and trees, was a dangerous one, as we were standing on a narrow plateau of about 50 feet in width, with the lava flowing on either side and in front of us filling deep ravines and smashing enormous trees as though they were mere stubble.

AFTER A RELIEF.
Once, when some hot stones rolled close to us, the writer poked one of them up, and hurriedly running back to escape being buried up in a hot rock slide, fell over a tree and lost the crutch, but deemed it unsafe to venture back a second time, and instead filled a bottle with cinders, which will soon be in America.

PHOTOGRAPHER'S NOTES.
Prior to leaving Apia for the journey homeward, the writer interviewed Photographer Tattersall, who, in company with many of the German officials, visited the volcano later. The following are his notes:

Saturday Aug. 28.—There is only one crater now, (there were three) but it is becoming very large, and is throwing out lava on the Geielale district side, threatening all villages under that slope. It is only six miles to the lava on the Matalu side. Lava has covered about four miles during the past four days. "When the tide came in, the booming ceased and resumes its thundering when the tide goes out."

PEOPLE ARE ALARMED.
The people at Safua are unable to sleep at night, and talk of nothing else by day. It is a very beautiful sight to watch the action of the volcano by night, as large stones many tons in weight are shot hundreds of feet into the air, and when alighting they resemble falling stars. It was very difficult to get a good picture of the volcano owing to the dense smoke, but two views of it were secured, showing the crater and mountains built up over 200 feet. No. 1, showing the lava, was a most beautiful sight, and is where a poor old chief was buried, the same day the writer viewed the scene. This unfortunate chief suffered too close to the flowing mass and was buried alive. No 2 was taken under a great disadvantage, as the heat was something awful, and trees and smoke cut off
